

COMPREHENSIVE BUSINESS PROFILE

The Client Ready System

Michael

AI Training & Content Reference Document

1. Executive Summary

The Client Ready System is an AI-powered business coaching company that helps struggling coaches (particularly those 2-5 years in) transform from confused 'I help everyone with everything' positioning into focused, profitable businesses with validated offers and client-ready funnels—all in 24 hours. Founded and operated by Michael, a civil engineer and former humanitarian leader with 10 years of field experience (including heading Save the Children's tsunami response in Banda Aceh), the business launched in November 2024 from Darwin, Australia.

Unlike typical coaching gurus promising overnight success, The Client Ready System takes a counter-cultural stance: keep your day job until you have a tested, viable business. This positioning stems from Michael's five years of building and failing at multiple business models while maintaining corporate employment—an experience that provides authentic authority with coaches who are investment-deep and wondering if they should quit.

The business operates on a low-ticket-to-high-ticket funnel model, starting with a $15 'Client Ready Offer Extraction' product that uses AI to help coaches identify their zone of genius in 60-90 minutes. This validates market demand before coaches build expensive infrastructure—an engineering approach applied to business. The front-end funnel includes strategic order bumps ($33 and $24) and one-time offers ($40 + $10/mo membership, plus $97 DFY funnel build), creating a self-liquidating acquisition system. The backend includes a high-ticket 12-week coaching program and plans for a tiered paid community.

Key differentiators include: (1) AI-powered extraction doing 90% of the work in 24 hours vs. weeks of manual guesswork, (2) 'you can't grow into pain' alignment philosophy addressing psychological barriers alongside tactics, (3) transparent 'still building' positioning that resonates with struggling coaches, (4) humanitarian background providing unassailable perspective on real problems vs. first-world coaching issues, and (5) engineering test-validate-build methodology creating measurable systems rather than hope-based marketing.

With an aggressive 90% affiliate commission structure, email list of 1,000, and primary marketing via Facebook ads to clientreadyoffer.com, the business targets the 95% of coaches who are broke or barely profitable. The 3-year vision:

$50K/month profit from a fully systematized info product business that can eventually be handed off to others, freeing Michael to pursue new opportunities while maintaining the freedom and peace he's been building toward for five years.

2. Founder Story & Credibility

Michael was born in Belfast, Northern Ireland during The Troubles—a guerrilla war between UK forces and paramilitaries. Despite the conflict, his childhood was happy; the danger that kept outsiders away created a protected space to grow. His family moved to Whitehead, a small seaside town where he explored freely, developing core values around freedom, resilience, and the devastating cost of intolerance. His mother pushed him to be his best in all things—a drive that would later fuel both achievement and an inner child wound around proving he was 'enough.'

After training as a civil engineer and project manager, Michael spent a decade in international development in some of the world's most challenging environments. He led Save the Children's rehousing program in Banda Aceh after the 2004 tsunami that killed over 200,000 people, building culturally sensitive homes under severe logistical constraints. He worked in the Gaza Strip for UNRWA and southern Serbia on post-conflict reconstruction, managing teams and delivering results when failure meant families sleeping in rubble.

Those years taught him that people are immensely resilient, that service should have no caveats, and that you must meet people where they are. They also taught him the difference between authentic service and exploitation—some showed up selflessly while others used tragedy for grand standing. But the constant moving took a toll on his wife and their relationship. Eventually, prioritizing his family over the mission, he took a corporate job in Darwin, Australia—a place nobody else wanted due to the heat and isolation.

The transition from leading teams through catastrophic disasters to corporate infrastructure projects in a remote Australian town created an identity crisis. Who was he without the life-or-death mission? Without the daily confirmation that his work mattered? So he did what every ambitious person does: he looked for the next mountain to climb. He'd build an online business.

Five years. Tens of thousands of dollars. Multiple business models that looked good on paper but felt wrong in execution. Affiliate marketing (misaligned—selling others' products). Transformation coaching (draining—clients underestimated what was required and didn't get results). He even tried quitting corporate once, only to learn that desperate energy corrupts everything. When survival depends on making sales, you become the thing you despise.

The breakthrough came through deep inner child work—recognizing he'd been building businesses to prove he was enough, following other people's blueprints instead of finding what was true to him. He discovered the principle that would become foundational: you can't grow into pain. If showing up in your business feels like forcing yourself into clothes that don't fit, you will eventually quit. Not because you're weak, but because human beings can't sustain misalignment.

Now, still in corporate (strategic wisdom, not failure), still building (in the arena, not observing from the other side), Michael helps coaches avoid the five years of expensive mistakes he made. His credibility doesn't come from having 'arrived'—it comes from understanding exactly what coaches go through at years 2, 3, 4, and 5 when they're investment-deep and wondering if they should quit. He's standing right there with them, teaching sustainable building over overnight success, and integrating the inner work with the outer work because he's learned they can't be separated.

3. Business Model & Offerings

Business Model Overview

The Client Ready System operates on a low-ticket-to-high-ticket funnel model that uses AI-powered tools and frameworks to help coaches quickly identify their zone of genius, create validated offers, and build launch-ready funnels. The business model leverages digital product delivery, AI automation (doing 90% of the work), and strategic upsells to create a self-liquidating customer acquisition system that naturally qualifies premium buyers.

Primary revenue streams include: front-end low-ticket digital products ($15-$97), recurring membership ($10/mo), high-ticket coaching ($2K-$5K range), and DFY services (funnel installation). The business also operates an affiliate program with aggressive 90% commission structure to drive growth through referrals.

Core Offering: AI-Powered Client Ready Funnel Installation

The flagship system takes coaches from 'I help everyone with everything' to having a complete, focused offer and launch-ready funnel in 24 hours using AI to do 90% of the heavy lifting. The system is delivered through three phases:

Phase 1: Offer Extraction & Avatar Creation (60-90 minutes)

- Client Ready Offer Extraction using AI prompts
- Ideal Client Profile Generator with 7-ingredient framework
- Messaging Map with 40+ specific messages across 5 categories
- Deliverables: Complete offer solving ONE problem, premium positioning at $2K-$5K+ level, detailed avatar, messaging framework

Phase 2: Funnel Building & Copy Creation (2-3 hours)

- Landing page copy using Triple Hook Method
- Order bump creation ($17-37 results amplifiers)
- Checkout page customization
- Validation product creation (mini-course, workshop, consultation, or audit format)
- Deliverables: Complete sales funnel, validation offer positioned at $97-$497, professional product delivery system

Phase 3: Ad Creation & Launch (60-90 minutes)

- Facebook Ads setup (campaign structure, pixel installation, conversion tracking)
- Ad creative development (5 image variations using Canva templates)

- Audience targeting strategy (broad interest, lookalike, Advantage+)
- Budget and bidding strategy ($30-50/day starting point)
- Deliverables: Live Facebook ad campaigns, complete tracking setup, optimization framework

Product Pricing Structure

Front-End Funnel:

- Client Ready Offer Extraction: $15 (core front-end offer)
- Order Bump 1 - AI Digital Prompt Extraction: $33
- Order Bump 2 - 3 Proven 6-Figure Offer Templates: $24

One-Time Offers:

- OTO 1 - High Ticket Playbook Essentials: $97 (one-time) + $37/month membership
 - Includes: Advanced Traffic Mastery Playbook, Weekly Implementation Calls, Canva Creative Folder, Email Template Library (50+ emails)
- OTO 2 - Complete Client Ready Funnel Build: $297

High-Ticket Backend:

- 12-Week Business Coaching Program: $2K-$5K+ range (premium positioning)
- Transformation: Complete client-ready funnel installation with ongoing optimization and support
- Format: Weekly coaching calls, funnel reviews, offer refinement, ad optimization

Affiliate Program

Aggressive commission structure designed for rapid growth through referrals:

- 90% commission on Client Ready Offer ($15 = $13.50 per sale)
- 90% commission on Order Bump 1 ($33 = $29.70 per sale)
- 90% commission on Order Bump 2 ($24 = $21.60 per sale)
- $40 commission on High Ticket Playbook Essentials
- $10/month recurring commission on membership
- $97 commission on Complete Funnel Build

Future Product Roadmap

- Tiered Paid Community: Multiple access levels with different benefits and price points
- Fully DFY GHL Funnel Install: Complete GoHighLevel sub-account setup with funnel, automation, and CRM configuration
- Specialized Coach Teams: Adding domain-specific coaches to community for additional value
- Arms-Length Info Product Expansion: Moving into other digital or potentially physical products for passive income scaling

4. Ideal Client Profile

Primary Avatar: The Struggling Mid-Journey Coach

Demographics & Current Situation:

- Time in Business: 2-5 years (past the 'shiny new business' phase, deep in the struggle)
- Investment: Tens of thousands of dollars spent on courses, coaches, and marketing
- Income: Inconsistent or minimal revenue, nowhere near replacing their day job
- Current Employment: Still working corporate/day job (may or may not be open about this)
- Geographic Location: Primarily Tier 1 countries (US, Canada, UK, Australia) but worldwide reach
- Niche: All types of coaches (life, business, health, relationship, career, etc.)
- Business Stage: Solopreneur, maybe some small contractor support but primarily alone

Core Characteristics & Pain Points:

- Confused Positioning: Trying to help everyone with everything. Can't clearly articulate who they serve or what specific problem they solve. Sounds like every other coach when they explain their business.
- Deeply Fear-Based: Fear of being seen (imposter syndrome). Fear of failure (what if I've wasted years and money?). Fear of success (what if I can't handle it?). Fear of asking people to buy (feels pushy or salesy).
- Following Guru Blueprints: Building businesses based on what their latest coach taught them, not what's true to who they are. Trying to fit into models that feel misaligned but 'should work.'
- Underestimating Requirements: Didn't realize it would take this long, cost this much, or require this level of consistency. Thought they'd be further along by now. Getting tired of the grind.
- Content Treadmill Exhaustion: Posting daily on social media hoping clients will come. Getting engagement but not sales. Exhausted from showing up without results. Starting to question if content marketing works.
- Validation Seeking: Looking for external confirmation they're on the right path. Need someone to tell them they're not crazy for persisting. Want proof their expertise matters.
- Craving Alignment: Sensing something feels 'off' but can't articulate what. Dreading showing up in their business. Looking for permission to build something that feels true to them.

What They've Already Tried (And Why It Failed):

- Free lead magnets and webinars (attracted freebie seekers, not buyers)
- Discovery calls and sales conversations (too time-intensive, low conversion)
- Organic social media posting (exhausting, inconsistent results, algorithm changes)
- Multiple course/program purchases (learned tactics but couldn't execute, still confused)
- Different business models (affiliate marketing, group programs, 1-on-1, nothing stuck)
- Trying to scale too fast (built big programs nobody bought)

Their 3am Worry:

'What if I've wasted years and tens of thousands of dollars on something that's never going to work? What if I'm not cut out for this? What if my expertise doesn't actually matter? What if I have to give up and admit everyone was right about this being a pipe dream? How much longer can I keep going without proof this is leading somewhere?'

What Makes Them Willing to Invest $2K-$5K+:

- Sunk Cost: Already invested tens of thousands, another $2K-$5K feels reasonable to 'make it work'
- Validated Skills: They know they're good at coaching, they just can't get clients consistently
- Income Potential: See the possibility of replacing day job income if they can just crack this
- Pain Intensity: The frustration of being 3-5 years in with little to show is unbearable
- Resonance: When someone describes their exact struggle, they'll pay for the solution
- Strategic Thinking: Understand the difference between cheap tactics and strategic investment

What They're Really Buying:

Not just a funnel or an offer—they're buying validation that their years of struggle weren't wasted, clarity on who they actually serve, permission to build something aligned with who they are, a system that finally makes sense to their brain, someone who understands exactly where they are without judgment, and hope that this can actually work if they stick with it.

Why They Choose The Client Ready System: Because Michael is standing where they are—still building, still in corporate, still working toward the goal. He's not promising overnight success. He's not asking them to quit their job. He's showing them the sustainable path forward that respects their current reality while building toward freedom. And his engineering + humanitarian background means he understands both systematic building AND authentic service in ways other coaches don't.

5. Brand Positioning & Unique Value

Core Brand Positioning

The Client Ready System positions as 'The Coach Who Won't Tell You to Quit Your 9-to-5'—a counter-cultural stance in an industry obsessed with 'quit your job in 90 days' promises. This positioning is built on Michael's hard-won wisdom from trying to build from desperation (and learning that desperate energy corrupts everything) and his ongoing experience of building alongside clients rather than preaching from the mountaintop.

Primary Tagline/Positioning Statement:

'From Zero to Complete Offer + Ideal Client Profile + Launch-Ready Funnel in 24 Hours Using AI to Do 90% of the Heavy Lifting'

Alternative Positioning:

'AI-Powered Client Ready Funnel Installation—Stop Trying to Help Everyone With Everything and Start Building a Focused, Premium-Priced Offer That Sells'

Core Brand Values

- Authenticity Over Polish: 'Show what you teach, teach what you show.' No performing, no pretending. The 'real me unpolished' is more valuable than any curated persona.
- Service Without Caveats: From humanitarian work—give service freely without expectation. No manipulation, no exploitation of desperation.
- You Can't Grow Into Pain: Foundational principle—if your business feels like forcing yourself into clothes that don't fit, you will eventually quit. Alignment matters more than tactics.
- Flow and Ease Over Force: While resilience is required, there's a difference between pushing through strategic discomfort and grinding against fundamental misalignment.
- Nobody Is Coming to Save You: Self-reliance and personal responsibility. Take ownership of your path, stop delegating thinking to gurus.
- Fairness & Fair Compensation: Coaches deserve to be paid fairly for their work—95% are broke or making very little, and that's unacceptable.
- Long-Term Sustainable Building: Most underestimate how long it takes to build aligned businesses. Teaching sustainable building over get-rich-quick schemes.

Unique Value Propositions

1. AI-Powered 24-Hour System (vs. Weeks of Manual Guesswork)

What used to take Michael weeks of agonizing over positioning now takes hours. AI extracts zone of genius, creates complete offer strategies, generates sales copy, builds detailed customer avatars, and produces launch-ready funnels. Coaches get clarity in 24 hours, not 3 months.

2. Test-Validate-Build Engineering Approach

Unlike coaches who teach 'build your big program first,' Michael applies civil engineering principles: test quickly with low-ticket offers, validate market demand, then build infrastructure from proven ground. Someone who pays $7 has skin in the game—they've proven they'll invest to solve their problem.

3. 'Still Building' Authentic Positioning

Michael doesn't claim to have 'arrived'—he's transparent about still being in corporate, still building toward his $50K/month goal, still in the arena. This isn't a weakness; it's his greatest strength with coaches at years 2-5 who need someone who understands exactly where they are, not someone preaching from the other side.

4. Inner Work + Outer Work Integration

Most coaches teach either tactics (funnels, ads, offers) or mindset (inner child, abundance). Michael integrates both because he's learned they can't be separated. Your business will only grow as much as you've grown. Most business problems are actually psychological problems—fear of being seen, need to prove worth, seeking external validation.

5. Humanitarian + Engineering Convergence

The combination of systematic engineering thinking with authentic service orientation from building homes for tsunami survivors creates a methodology that's both strategic AND genuinely helpful. Most coaches have one or the other, not both. This convergence provides perspective on what actually matters (first-world coaching issues vs. building homes in disaster zones) while maintaining systematic rigor.

6. Counter-Cultural 'Keep Your Job' Advice

Michael actively advises coaches NOT to quit their day jobs until they have tested, viable businesses. This contradicts 90% of the coaching industry but reflects hard-won wisdom: desperate energy destroys authenticity and integrity. Building from abundance (keeping the safety net) allows genuine service without pressure that corrupts.

7. Focus on ONE Problem (Not Everything for Everyone)

The zone of genius extraction specifically identifies the ONE core problem a coach is uniquely positioned to solve. Not 'business strategy' or 'mindset coaching'—the SPECIFIC high-stakes problem their background positions them to solve better than anyone else. This creates premium positioning and natural differentiation.

Competitive Differentiation

vs. Traditional Business Coaches: They teach outdated tactics without addressing psychological barriers. Michael integrates inner work with outer strategy because business problems are often psychological problems in disguise.

vs. Quick-Win Gurus: They promise overnight success and 'quit your job in 90 days.' Michael teaches sustainable building over 3-5 years, respects the long game, and doesn't exploit desperation.

vs. Organic Content Coaches: They teach 'post more content and clients will come.' Michael uses paid validation through low-ticket funnels that give binary feedback quickly—you know in 48 hours if it works, not months of posting hoping.

vs. High-Ticket-Only Coaches: They jump straight to $5K offers with no validation. Michael uses low-ticket to test and qualify, then naturally ascends proven buyers to premium—reducing risk and building confidence.

vs. Manual Funnel Builders: They create funnels the old way—weeks of writing, designing, testing. Michael leverages AI to do 90% of the work in 24 hours, dramatically reducing time and friction while maintaining quality.

6. Marketing Approach & Growth Strategy

Primary Marketing Channels

Facebook Ads (Primary Acquisition Channel)

Cold traffic Facebook advertising to clientreadyoffer.com is the primary customer acquisition strategy. Starting budget: $30-50/day, scaling to $100+/day as campaigns prove profitable. Target CPA: 2-3x product price ($30-45 for $15 offer). Targeting coaches interested in life coaching, personal development, entrepreneurship, digital marketing, and online business in Tier 1 countries (US, Canada, UK, Australia) with worldwide reach.

Triple Hook Ad Method:

- Hook 1 (Premise): Bold statement with specific numbers, immediate pattern interrupt
- Hook 2 (Stakes): Why this matters, creates urgency and relevance
- Hook 3 (Twist): Pattern interrupt that challenges beliefs, creates curiosity

Organic Social Media (Secondary, Relationship Building)

Active on Facebook and Instagram with organic posting. Traditionally this was Michael's main client acquisition method but has become increasingly difficult—takes many touch points to move people to purchase. Now used primarily for building authority, sharing insights, and nurturing warm audience. Email list: 1,000 subscribers.

YouTube (Inactive But Available)

Channel exists but not currently active. Potential future content distribution channel for tutorials, walkthroughs, and thought leadership content.

Affiliate Marketing (Growth Accelerator)

Aggressive 90% commission structure on front-end products designed to incentivize affiliates to promote The Client Ready System. Top affiliates can earn $1,000+ per month. This leveraged growth strategy allows rapid scaling without increasing ad spend proportionally.

Funnel Architecture & Conversion Strategy

Self-Liquidating Offer (SLO) Funnel:

- Step 1: Facebook ad → Landing page (clientreadyoffer.com)
- Step 2: $15 Client Ready Offer purchase
- Step 3: Order Bump 1 ($33) + Order Bump 2 ($24) at checkout
- Step 4: OTO 1 - High Ticket Playbook ($40 + $10/mo)
- Step 5: OTO 2 - Complete Funnel Build ($97)
- Step 6: Email nurture sequence positioning high-ticket coaching
- Step 7: Application for 12-week coaching program ($2K-$5K+)

Average Order Value (AOV) Strategy:

Front-end funnel designed to maximize AOV through strategic order bumps and OTOs. Base offer: $15. With 30-60% order bump take rate and 20-40% OTO conversion, average customer value: $40-80 on front-end, before high-ticket ascension. Goal: self-liquidating or profitable customer acquisition at scale.

Content & Messaging Strategy

All content is guided by the Messaging Map framework with five core message categories:

- High-Stakes Problem Amplifiers: Specific struggles that make ideal clients say 'this is my exact situation'
- Premium Outcome Activators: Transformations worth investing $2K-$5K+ to achieve
- Objection Dissolvers: Addressing concerns about investing at premium level and differentiation from competitors
- Unfair Advantage Triggers: Why Michael is uniquely positioned (humanitarian + engineering + 5-year journey)
- Urgency Creators: Why solving NOW matters based on cost of staying stuck, not artificial scarcity

Technology Stack

- GoHighLevel: Complete funnel builder, CRM, email automation, payment processing
- Claude/ChatGPT: AI-powered offer extraction, avatar creation, copy generation, messaging frameworks
- Canva Pro: Ad creative design, image templates, brand assets
- Facebook Ads Manager: Campaign creation, optimization, tracking
- Facebook Pixel + Conversions API: Tracking, attribution, retargeting
- Vimeo: Video hosting for walkthrough tutorials
- Google Docs: AI prompt delivery, framework documentation

Growth Metrics & Key Performance Indicators

Current Business Status (November 2024 Launch):

- Validation: 7 sales + order bumps on low-ticket funnel (proof of concept)
- Experience: 50+ coaches worked with over 5-year period
- Email List: 1,000 subscribers
- Primary Focus: Scaling validated front-end funnel to consistent daily sales

Target Metrics:

- Facebook Ads CPA: $30-45 (2-3x product price)
- Landing Page Conversion Rate: 10-15%
- Order Bump Take Rate: 30-60%
- OTO Conversion: 20-40%
- ROAS (Return on Ad Spend): 1.5-3x minimum
- High-Ticket Conversion: 5-10% of front-end buyers

3-Year Vision (2027):

- Revenue: $50K/month profit (self-sufficient info product business)
- Structure: Fully systematized, team-run operations
- Products: Complete ecosystem from $15 front-end to $5K+ premium to recurring community
- Scaling: Multiple traffic sources, thriving affiliate program, content engine
- Exit Strategy: Progressive handover to team, allowing Michael to pursue other opportunities

7. Operations & Customer Experience

Operational Model

The Client Ready System operates as a solo business while Michael maintains corporate employment in Darwin, Australia. This lean operational model is intentional—it allows building from abundance rather than desperation, maintains authenticity and integrity, and demonstrates the sustainable path Michael teaches. The business is highly leveraged through AI automation (90% of client work) and digital product delivery (no physical fulfillment logistics).

Time Investment: Michael works on the business in focused blocks around corporate employment—evenings, weekends, and during available corporate downtime. The AI-powered delivery system and digital product model means the business can scale without proportional time increases.

Support Structure: Currently no contractors or VAs. All customer support handled directly by Michael via email (michael@michaelscott.io). Average support time per customer is minimal due to comprehensive video walkthroughs and self-paced implementation design. Most questions are answered by existing documentation.

Product Delivery System

Immediate Digital Access:

- Upon purchase, customers receive instant access via email
- All materials hosted on Google Docs (AI prompts, frameworks, templates)
- Video walkthroughs hosted on Vimeo (explanation videos for each phase)
- Canva templates provided via shared links
- No membership site complexity—simple, accessible delivery

Self-Paced Implementation:

The 24-hour timeline is self-paced. Customers work through three phases on their own schedule with video guidance at each step. This self-led approach is intentional—it filters for coaches who don't need hand-holding and can execute with frameworks and guidance. High-ticket program is for those who need ongoing support and accountability.

Customer Journey Map

Stage 1: Awareness (Facebook Ad)

- Coach sees ad speaking to their specific struggle (confused positioning, no clients)
- Triple Hook method creates pattern interrupt and curiosity
- Click to landing page (clientreadyoffer.com)

Stage 2: Consideration (Landing Page)

- Headline immediately qualifies: 'This is for me' or 'This isn't for me'
- Copy addresses high-stakes problem with specific consequences
- Michael's unfair advantage (humanitarian + engineering + 5-year journey) builds credibility
- $15 price point feels like a no-brainer for qualified coaches

Stage 3: Purchase (Checkout)

- Order Bump 1 ($33): AI prompts that amplify results
- Order Bump 2 ($24): Proven offer templates
- Impulse-purchase pricing creates easy yes decisions

Stage 4: Immediate Value (Email Delivery)

- Instant access email with all materials
- Clear next steps: Start with Phase 1 video walkthrough
- OTO 1 presented: High Ticket Playbook ($40 + $10/mo)

Stage 5: Implementation (24-Hour System)

- Phase 1: Complete offer extraction, avatar creation, messaging map (60-90 min)
- Phase 2: Build funnel with AI-generated copy, create validation product (2-3 hours)
- Phase 3: Launch Facebook ads with proven creative templates (60-90 min)
- OTO 2 presented after completion: Complete Funnel Build DFY ($97)

Stage 6: Results & Validation

- Within 48-72 hours: First data from Facebook ads
- Validation: Proof concept works (or pivot signals needed)
- Email nurture sequence begins positioning high-ticket coaching

Stage 7: Ascension (High-Ticket)

- Coaches with validation results naturally desire systematic support
- Application process for 12-week coaching program
- Investment: $2K-$5K+ for complete system implementation with ongoing optimization

Support & Community Structure

Email Support: michael@michaelscott.io for all customer inquiries. Response time: typically within 24-48 hours.

Weekly Implementation Calls: Available to High Ticket Playbook members ($10/mo). Live group calls where members can get direct feedback on what they're building, ask questions, and receive real-time guidance.

Testimonial Incentive Program: Customers who submit text and video testimonials receive Advanced Traffic Mastery Playbook, one-time weekly implementation call access, advanced Canva creative folder, and email template library (50+ proven emails). Submission via VideoPeel, bonus delivery via email.

Refund Policy & Guarantees

Front-End Low-Ticket Offers: Refund policy available on $15 Client Ready Offer and order bumps. Standard terms apply.

High-Ticket Backend Offers: No refund policy on 12-week coaching program and premium services. This filters for committed clients and protects time investment.

Disclaimers: No income claims or get-rich-quick promises. Clear communication that this process requires testing to get front-end offer converting—no guarantees given. The self-led nature of the program requires coaches to execute independently, not looking for hand-holding.

High-Ticket Coaching Onboarding: Application process screens for commitment and fit. Onboarding includes complete business audit, customized implementation roadmap, weekly 1-on-1 calls, funnel optimization support, and ongoing ad campaign management guidance. Delivered through Zoom calls, GoHighLevel workspace access, and email/Slack communication.

8. Innovation & Industry Context

Industry Position & Market Opportunity

The coaching industry is experiencing simultaneous saturation and opportunity. While the market is crowded with coaches ('everyone's a coach'), 95% of coaches are broke or making very little money—creating a massive underserved market of skilled professionals who can't get clients consistently. The Client Ready System addresses this gap by solving the core problem most coaches face: confused positioning leading to invisible differentiation.

Key Industry Challenges The Client Ready System Addresses:

- 'I Help Everyone With Everything' Epidemic: Most coaches try to appeal to everyone, making them invisible to anyone. Vague positioning like 'mindset coach' or 'business strategist' creates commodity competition.
- Guru Worship Culture: Coaches delegate their thinking to the latest guru, following blueprints that don't fit who they are. This creates misaligned businesses doomed to fail.
- Quit Your Job in 90 Days False Promises: Industry full of coaches promising overnight success, creating desperate energy that corrupts authenticity and leads to burnout.
- Content Treadmill Exhaustion: 'Post more content and clients will come' strategy takes years to validate and burns coaches out before they see results.
- Tactics Over Psychology: Most coaching about coaching focuses on funnels and ads without addressing the fear, imposter syndrome, and inner child wounds that actually prevent success.
- Build First, Validate Never: Coaches spend months creating expensive programs nobody wants because they never tested market demand first.

Innovation Elements

1. 'AI Gold Rush' Positioning

We're in the middle of what Michael calls the 'AI Gold Rush'—a period where AI tools can help coaches find focused positioning in hours instead of months. This competitive advantage window won't last forever. Coaches who figure out how to leverage AI for clarity now will dominate while others are still manually guessing. The Client Ready System capitalizes on this by making AI do 90% of the work: extracting zone of genius, creating offer strategies, generating sales copy, building customer avatars, producing launch-ready funnels.

2. Test-Validate-Build Engineering Methodology

Applying civil engineering principles to business building: you don't construct a bridge before testing the foundation. The innovation is using low-ticket offers ($7-27) as validation mechanism. Someone who pays even $7 has proven they'll invest to solve their problem—they have skin in the game. This creates binary feedback loops (Facebook ads tell you in 48 hours if it works) rather than hope-based organic strategies that take months or years to validate.

3. Counter-Cultural 'Keep Your Job' Wisdom

The bold stance of actively advising coaches NOT to quit their jobs until they have tested, viable businesses. This differentiates completely from the 'quit in 90 days' industry standard and builds trust with coaches burned by false promises. The innovation is recognizing that building from abundance (keeping the safety net) maintains integrity and authentic service—desperate energy corrupts everything.

4. Inner Work + Outer Work Integration

Most coaches teach either tactics (funnels, ads, offers) or mindset (abundance, healing). The innovation is recognizing they cannot be separated—your business will only grow as much as you've grown. Identifying when business problems are actually psychological problems (fear of being seen, need to prove worth, imposter syndrome) and addressing both simultaneously.

5. 'Still Building' Authentic Positioning

The strategic decision to build in public while still in corporate, still working toward goals, still in the arena. This creates magnetic resonance with coaches at years 2-5 who need someone standing where they are, not preaching from the mountaintop. The innovation is recognizing that vulnerability and realness are more valuable than fake guru credibility.

Future Industry Vision (3-5 Years)

Michael sees the coaching industry splitting into two camps:

Camp 1 - AI-Leveraged Specialists: Coaches who use AI to find their focused positioning, validate quickly, and build sustainable businesses solving specific problems for specific people. These coaches will thrive because they'll stand out in the noise with clear differentiation.

Camp 2 - Generic Generalists: Coaches still trying to help everyone with everything, manually guessing at positioning, posting content hoping for clients. These coaches will continue struggling in the 95% who are broke or barely profitable.

The opportunity: helping coaches migrate from Camp 2 to Camp 1 before the competitive advantage window closes. As AI becomes commoditized, the early adopters will have established positioning and momentum that will be difficult to compete with.

Next Innovation on Roadmap: Fully DFY GoHighLevel funnel installation where coaches get complete sub-account setup with funnel, automation, and CRM configuration. This removes the last technical barrier preventing coaches from launching their validated offers. Also developing tiered community model with specialized coaches adding domain-specific expertise, creating network effects and compounding value.

9. Social Impact & Company Culture

Mission & Values in Action

The Client Ready System exists to help the 95% of coaches who are broke or barely profitable build sustainable, aligned businesses that actually work. This isn't just a business goal—it's a social mission rooted in Michael's humanitarian background and his belief that coaches deserve fair compensation for legitimate expertise.

Core Values Lived Daily:

- Service Without Caveats: From building homes for tsunami survivors—give service freely without expectation of return. In practice: 90% affiliate commissions (giving away most profit to help others grow), comprehensive free resources, no gatekeeping of knowledge.
- Meet People Where They Are: From humanitarian field work—meet people at their current reality, not where you want them to be. In practice: self-paced implementation respecting coaches' time constraints, keeping day job advice acknowledging real financial pressures, validating the 3-5 year journey rather than promising quick wins.
- Fairness & Fair Compensation: Coaches with legitimate expertise shouldn't be broke. In practice: teaching premium positioning ($2K-$5K+ programs), helping coaches charge what they're worth, refusing to perpetuate the 'cheap coaching' race to the bottom.
- Against Exploitation: Witnessed opportunists using tragedy for self-promotion in disaster zones—refuses to do the same in coaching. In practice: no false income claims, no 'quit your job in 90 days' BS, no exploitation of desperate coaches, honest about what actually works and how long it takes.
- Long-Term Thinking: Sustainable building over quick extraction. In practice: teaching 3-5 year timelines, building for the long game, prioritizing alignment over tactics, creating systems that last rather than exploiting trends.

Social Impact Vision

Primary Impact: Reducing Coach Poverty

If 95% of coaches are broke or barely profitable, that represents hundreds of thousands of skilled professionals trapped in businesses that don't work. Many have invested tens of thousands and years of effort. The social impact: helping these coaches build businesses that actually generate income, reducing financial stress on their families, creating sustainable livelihoods from legitimate expertise.

Secondary Impact: Reducing Misalignment Burnout

Michael learned from his own humanitarian career: building businesses misaligned with who you are takes a toll on families and relationships. By teaching alignment first, he's reducing the personal and relational cost of entrepreneurship. Coaches who build aligned businesses don't burn out, don't resent their work, and don't damage their families in pursuit of success.

Tertiary Impact: Counter to Predatory Marketing

The coaching-about-coaching space is full of predatory marketers exploiting desperate wannabe coaches with false promises. By building a business on authenticity, honesty about timelines, and sustainable strategies, The Client Ready System provides an alternative that coaches can trust. This gradually shifts industry norms away from exploitation.

Company Culture (Solo Operation)

Current Reality:

As a solo operation, company culture is really Michael's personal operating principles:

- Balance & Sustainability: Working around corporate job rather than burning out. Building from abundance, not desperation. Prioritizing family and health (120+ gym workouts annually, adequate sleep, quiet thinking time).
- Concurrent Inner & Outer Work: Continuing inner child healing and personal development alongside business building. Recognizing that fixing the business without fixing yourself doesn't work.
- Geographic Freedom: Living in Darwin, Australia by choice—embracing the relaxed, independent lifestyle despite climate challenges. Demonstrating that you don't need to be in a major hub to build a global online business.
- Community Over Isolation: Weekly implementation calls for members, active engagement with customers, testimonial incentive programs that reward participation. Building connection even as a solo operator.

Future Culture Vision (When Team Scales):

When The Client Ready System scales to a team, Michael envisions culture based on:

- Remote-First, Results-Focused: No geographic restrictions, measure outcomes not hours, trust and autonomy over micromanagement.
- Authentic Service Over Sales Targets: Never push sales for sales' sake. Only recommend what actually helps. Build trust through genuine help, not manipulation.
- Learning & Growth: Everyone still learning, no pretending to have all answers. Transparent about experiments and what works vs. doesn't.
- Fair Compensation: Practice what we preach—team members should be paid fairly for their expertise and contribution.

Charitable Giving & Causes

Current Focus: As a early-stage business still working toward profitability, formal charitable giving is not yet implemented. However, Michael's commitment to service without caveats manifests in aggressive affiliate commissions (90%), comprehensive free resources, and helping coaches regardless of ability to pay premium prices.

Personal Connection: Michael follows the Israel-Palestine situation closely given his UNRWA experience in Gaza. While he keeps politics separate from business, his understanding of displacement and conflict informs his values around fairness and service.

Future Vision: As the business becomes profitable and sustainable, Michael plans to support causes related to education access for displaced persons, humanitarian reconstruction efforts, and initiatives helping people build sustainable livelihoods after catastrophic loss. The principle: those who've been given much (like Michael's decade of humanitarian experience) should give back when able.

10. Communication Style Guide

Core Voice & Tone

Michael's communication is direct, honest, and unpolished—'the real me unpolished' rather than curated perfection. His voice reflects his engineering background (systematic, clear, no-fluff), humanitarian experience (authentic service, meeting people where they are), and five years in the trenches (vulnerability about struggle, no fake guru posturing). The tone is conversational yet credible, casual yet authoritative, empathetic yet challenging.

Key Principles:

- Authenticity Over Polish: Don't perform or pretend. If you don't know, say so. Share both wins AND failures. The messy truth is more valuable than curated perfection.
- No-Fluff Engineering Mindset: Cut through marketing hype. Focus on what moves the needle. Think in systems and measurable outcomes. Don't waste time on trivial issues.
- Counter-Cultural Truth-Telling: Against guru worship. Won't promise overnight success. Talk about the 5-year journey and repeated failures. Teaching sustainable building, not exploitation.
- Values-Driven Language: Freedom, resilience, consistency, fairness constantly referenced. 'You can't grow into pain' as foundational principle. 'Nobody is coming to save you' as empowerment.
- Casual Yet Credible: Simple self-introduction ('I'm Michael'). Conversational tone. But backed by real experience (humanitarian leadership, engineering, 50+ coaches worked with).

Signature Phrases & Concepts

- 'Show what I teach and teach what I show'
- 'You can't grow into pain'
- 'Nobody is coming to save me/you'
- 'Service should have no caveats'
- 'Adversity is where character is formed'
- 'Enough means peace'
- 'Flow and ease should be at the heart of any coaching business'
- 'People fundamentally don't think anymore—they've delegated that to higher powers'
- 'Building an aligned, purpose-led business is the holy grail'
- 'I help everyone with everything' (said with disdain about confused coaches)
- 'The real me unpolished'
- 'AI Gold Rush' (current opportunity window)
- 'Zone of genius extraction' (not 'find your niche')
- 'Test-validate-build' (engineering methodology)
- 'Skin in the game' (someone who pays even $7 is qualified)

What to Avoid in Michael's Voice

- Overly formal or academic language
- Marketing jargon or hype ('game-changer,' 'revolutionary,' 'secret sauce')

- False promises or income claims
- Guru posturing or acting like he has all the answers
- Excessive positivity or motivational platitudes
- Emojis (unless specifically asked or in very casual contexts)
- Pushy sales language or artificial urgency
- Pretending to have arrived or be further along than reality

11. Key Terminology Glossary

AI Gold Rush: The current period where AI tools provide competitive advantage in business building. Window of opportunity before AI becomes commoditized and everyone uses it.

Alignment / Misalignment: Whether a business model fits who you authentically are. Aligned businesses feel like flow; misaligned feels like pain. Core principle: 'you can't grow into pain.'

AOV (Average Order Value): Average amount a customer spends per transaction including base offer, order bumps, and one-time offers.

Ascension / Ascend: Moving customers from low-ticket to medium-ticket to high-ticket offers naturally as they experience results and want more support.

Avatar: Detailed profile of ideal client including demographics, psychographics, pain points, desires, and buying behaviors. Goes beyond surface demographics to psychological motivations.

Client Ready Offer: A focused offer that solves ONE specific problem for a specific type of person, positioned for premium pricing ($2K-$5K+), with clear transformation and natural differentiation.

CPA (Cost Per Acquisition): How much you spend in ads to acquire one customer. Target: 2-3x product price for profitability.

DFY (Done-For-You): Service where something is completed for the client rather than taught. Example: Complete Client Ready Funnel Build ($97) creates the entire funnel for them.

Front-End Offer: Low-priced offer ($7-$97) designed to acquire customers profitably and qualify them for higher-ticket backend offers.

Funnel: Series of pages that guides prospects from awareness to purchase. Typically: ad → landing page → checkout → upsells → delivery.

GHL (GoHighLevel): All-in-one platform for funnels, CRM, email automation, and payment processing. Primary tool used in The Client Ready System.

Guru Worship: Delegating your thinking to coaches/experts and blindly following their blueprints without critical thinking. Leads to building misaligned businesses.

High-Stakes Problem: Problem with serious consequences if not solved. Creates urgency and willingness to invest premium prices. Example: 'I've invested $50K and 5 years with nothing to show' vs. 'I need more confidence.'

High-Ticket: Premium-priced offers typically $2K-$5K+ that provide comprehensive transformation and ongoing support. Backend of funnel strategy.

Inner Child Work: Psychological healing of wounds from childhood (like 'not being enough') that sabotage adult business success. Essential concurrent work with business building.

Low-Ticket: Affordable offers typically $7-$97 used to validate market demand and qualify buyers before building expensive infrastructure.

Messaging Map: Framework organizing content into 5 categories: High-Stakes Problem Amplifiers, Premium Outcome Activators, Objection Dissolvers, Unfair Advantage Triggers, Urgency Creators.

Order Bump: Add-on offer presented at checkout with single checkbox. Typically $17-37, increases AOV by 30-70%. Should amplify main offer results.

OTO (One-Time Offer): Upsell presented after purchase, available only once. Creates urgency through scarcity. Example: High Ticket Playbook ($40 + $10/mo).

ROAS (Return on Ad Spend): Revenue generated divided by ad spend. Target: 1.5x minimum, 2-3x healthy. Example: $1000 spend → $2000 revenue = 2x ROAS.

Self-Liquidating Offer (SLO): Front-end offer plus order bumps/OTOs designed to cover or exceed customer acquisition cost, making paid traffic sustainable.

Skin in the Game: When someone pays money (even $7), they've proven willingness to invest in solving their problem. Separates buyers from freebie seekers.

Test-Validate-Build: Engineering methodology applied to business. Don't build infrastructure before testing market demand. Start small, prove it works, then scale.

The Troubles: Conflict in Northern Ireland (1960s-1998) between UK forces and paramilitaries. Michael's childhood context in Belfast, shaped his values around intolerance and fairness.

Triple Hook Method: Facebook ad copy structure: Hook 1 (premise with numbers), Hook 2 (stakes/why it matters), Hook 3 (twist/pattern interrupt). Creates curiosity and clicks.

Unfair Advantage: Unique combination of experience, expertise, or background that positions someone to solve a specific problem better than anyone else. Not generic credentials.

Validation Offer: Small product/service ($97-$497) that tests whether people will pay for your solution before building full program. Proves methodology works while revealing need for more support.

Zone of Genius: The ONE thing you're uniquely qualified to teach based on your specific background and experience. Not what you're interested in—what you're positioned to dominate.